

Cold-water Farms Specialised in KHV Free Koi & All Types of Goldfish from Israel

Seeking Distributors and Wholesalers in the U.K.

Koi on Demand™

Koi on Demand™ started in early 2006 and commercialized goldfish in 2007. It expanded its business due to increasing demands from the market. Its current total capacity of fish farm is more than 20,800 cubic meters of water headquartered in the Jerusalem District. We are seeking resellers and wholesalers in the United Kingdom since we are capable of offering KHV free Koi, as well as various types of Goldfish available all year long like Comet, Shubunkin, Oranda and Fantails.

Goldfish Features

Goldfish (Carassius auratus) is one of the first types of ornamental fish simply because they are so colorful, social and inexpensive. Currently there are 18 varieties of Goldfish with all colors like orange, yellow, blue, red, white, black, chocolate, calico or a beautiful mixture of any of these.

The origin of Goldfish is from ancient China about one thousand years ago in the Song dynasty, and became popular in the late 16th century. As the imperial color, yellow was forbidden and only kept by the ancient royal families in China resulting in less yellow but more orange color today.

Israeli Goldfish

For many years, Israel has been a key goldfish supplier to the European market which now is expanded to the U.K. Israel goldfish with its various types have excellent reputation for their high qualities. It is known that Goldfish are an extremely important part of ornamental fish market to assist in sales during the cold-water fish seasons.

Since Goldfish breeding season is spring, extra water spaces are needed for their production and storage.

Goldfish Trading

Internationally more than 4,000 species of ornamental freshwater fish are traded each year in the globe. The majority of trade in freshwater ornamental fish involves captive bred specimens such as goldfish and carp. Popular freshwater species include carp-like fishes, which is an important family distributed throughout the world such as Goldfish, Koi, Minnows.

The Goldfish history in the U.K. started before 1900s. Today, U.K. is one of the largest ornamental fish markets in the world with $26-30 million dollars of import value annually. Your business will be able to thrive if you take this chance to be a reseller of an Israel fish company with multiple fish farms. We will be both beneficial from the market and sales collaboration. Koi on Demand™ as a company with more than 10 year's fish farming experience and bio secured fish breeding environment approved by the Ministry of Agriculture of Israel, is currently seeking distributors and wholesalers from the U. K. Please call or email us today.
